LEADERSHIP AND GOVERNANCE IN LAW FIRMS

Professor Laura Empson will present findings from her two major UK government-funded research studies to explore leadership and governance in law firms. She will examine how the partnership form of governance creates distinctive leadership challenges in law firms and how leaders can gain and utilise power in this context. She will analyse what makes a good law firm leader, how the requirements of leadership change as a law firm grows, and how law firm leaders need to adapt their leadership style during an economic crisis.
