

CONVOCATORIA PARA LA PRUEBA DE ACCESO
A LA UNIVERSIDAD DE NAVARRA PARA MAYORES DE 25 Y 45 AÑOS.
Edición de 2021

Ejercicio de INGLÉS

Indique el número de Credencial:

--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--

Observaciones para la realización de este ejercicio:

- Tiempo máximo: una hora.
- Espacio máximo: el indicado en cada ejercicio.
- Las respuestas incorrectas no descuentan.
- No se puede usar diccionario.

Part 1: Multiple Choice

- Choose the answer (1, 2, 3 or 4) that best fits each gap.
1. He doesn't play baseball and neither _____.
 1. his sister
 2. doesn't his sister
 3. his sister does
 4. does his sister
 2. You should stop _____ so much money on clothes.
 1. in spending
 2. to spend
 3. spending
 4. spend
 3. James would be thrilled if he _____ the competition.
 1. had won
 2. would win
 3. won
 4. wins
 4. Do I _____ pay for parking in this area?
 1. should
 2. have to
 3. stay
 4. must
 5. Lucas said, " _____ do the shopping?"
 1. Would I
 2. Have I
 3. Shall I
 4. Will
 6. How _____ does he eat in the canteen?
 1. often
 2. long
 3. many
 4. frequent
 7. You won't go to the match unless _____ your sister.
 1. you help
 2. you didn't help
 3. you will help
 4. you don't help

I

8. He wanted to know where _____.
1. was she living
2. she is living
3. she lived
4. is she living
9. You really should _____ the Citadel.
1. visited
2. visit
3. visiting
4. to visit
10. I saw him _____ the High Street.
1. on
2. at
3. around
4. in
11. He says he sent the parcel a week ago, but it _____ until Friday.
1. hadn't arrived
2. hasn't arrive
3. wouldn't arrive
4. didn't arrive
12. She didn't read the article on asthma, _____ she?
1. had
2. did
3. went
4. didn't
13. Ben keeps _____ the same movie.
1. to watching
2. watch
3. watching
4. to watch
14. Were you there when he fell off the ladder? Yes, I _____.
1. do
2. were
3. did
4. was
15. _____ all the details in the online form.
1. set off
2. fill in
3. get through
4. put in

Part 2: Gap-fill

- Read the text below and write one appropriate word in each space.

In the last few years, a number of cookery schools have (1) _____ set up in Ireland to promote Irish cooking. One such school (2) _____ run by Kathleen Doyle not far (3) _____ from the centre of Dublin.

"I opened the school twelve years ago," she says. "The school was (4) _____ no means an overnight success; I found (5) _____ necessary to work hard to build up a reputation. One of my advantages was that I'd had problems with my own cooking. I've made (6) _____ mistake that it's possible to make, but (7) _____ of this, I know what people do wrong from first-hand experience.

Just (8) _____ most cookery schools in Ireland, Kathleen initially copied the classical dishes of France and Italy and other countries (9) _____ have a reputation for excellent food. "Now though, things are changing," says Kathleen. "We get excellent produce from Irish farms and, (10) _____ a result, we're encouraging students to create unique Irish dishes."

Part 3: Reading Comprehension

Read the article "A brief travel guide to Goa" and decide whether the statements 1–10 below are True (T) or False (F).

1. Goa was formerly ruled by the Portuguese. T / F
2. Many people visit Goa for religious reasons. T / F
3. The proportion of Hindus is larger along the coast. T / F
4. The writer specially recommends the cooking in international hotels. T / F
5. Vindaloo is the name for a famous fish recipe. T / F
6. Most of the nightlife is to be found in the southern area of Goa. T / F
7. It is cheaper not to fly directly to Goa. T / F
8. Yellow cabs are usually more expensive than taxis. T / F
9. Trains are often very full, so it is useful to book your seat. T / F
10. The climate in Goa is temperate, except in the summer. T / F

A brief travel guide to Goa

Have you finally decided to take that long awaited holiday to India but aren't sure where to go? If you're looking for the perfect blend of colonial and modern charm, rich in history, cuisine and extraordinary culture, then look no further — Goa is your dream destination. Goa offers something for everyone.

History

Being a former Portuguese colony, Goa has a unique blend of cultures and architecture, attracting almost 2.5 million visitors every year. While many come as tourists, others venture out as pilgrims, drawn to the numerous Catholic and Hindu shrines. Seeing that many coastal areas were under colonial rule longer than inland areas, it's here where you'll find greater Portuguese influence and consequently, a larger Christian population. Interior areas are home to the majority of Hindu communities and are chiefly comprised of villages, protected forests and mining zones.

Where to go

Situated along the Southwest coast, Goa is home to some of the most beautiful beaches in the world, and trips to the shore are much more than crystal clear waters and glowing sands. Once there you'll be met with mouthwatering Goan cuisine; the best dishes found in simple seaside huts and local markets. Goa is the home of the famous vindaloo (from the Portuguese vinho d'alho, literally "garlic wine"), originally an extra-hot and sour pork curry, but now made with a variety of meat and fish. The choice of seafood is excellent – clams, mussels, crab, lobster, giant prawns – while fish, depending on the type, is either cooked in wet curries, grilled, or baked in tandoori clay ovens. If you're looking for a quieter, serene atmosphere, you might want to stick with beaches in South Goa, but if you're up for a night of music and dancing be sure to wander up north a bit.

Getting to Goa

While some airlines fly directly to Goa's Dabolim airport, you're better off finding a cheaper international flight via Mumbai. Once you arrive at Dabolim, look for prepaid taxis, which often offer a slightly better rate than yellow cabs. Travelling by train is a popular way of getting to Goa, as it offers breathtaking views of the coasts and countryside. Be sure to make reservations well in advance since many major trains are often times heavily booked.

While Goa enjoys a moderate, warm climate year-round, with average temperatures of 25 to 30 degrees, take extra care if you're booking flights to India during Monsoon season, which lasts from June to mid-October. Tourists usually avoid Goa in July, when the heavy rains cause flash flooding and very high humidity.

Writing

Choose either option 1 or option 2 below and write a brief essay about it. You should write 150–200 words.

- 1) Some people believe that university students should be required to attend classes. Others believe that going to classes should be optional. Which point of view do you agree with? Use specific reasons and details to support your answer.

or

- 2) It is has been said that “not everything that is learned is contained in books”. Compare and contrast knowledge gained from experience with knowledge gained from books. In your opinion, which source is more important? And why?