

Universidad
de Navarra

Alberto Delgado López. Laboratory Technician (2002). Graduated in Environmental Sciences (2014) by the “Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia”.

His work is almost entirely laboratory-based, working as part and scientific team involved in cell culture, production, purification, study and characterization of bacterial antigens. Competences to work under BSL-3 (Biosafety level 3) conditions, with skills in animal experimentation.

In addition, is the person in charge of safety in the laboratory and management of chemical residues.