

Film submissions invited for #LabMeCrazy! Science Film Festival, Sept. 17-20, 2019, in Pamplona, Spain

All services » Groups » Science Communication » Discussions » Film submissions invited for #LabMeCrazy! Science Film Festival, Sept. 17-20, 2019, in Pamplona, Spain

24/02/19 11:47:23PM
@chief-admin

The following is cross-posted from the PCST Network by Research Co-op Admin:

Dear all,

The Museo de Ciencias at the University of Navarra is delighted to announce the launch of the film submission period for the #LabMeCrazy! Science Film Festival, which will take place from September 17 to 20, 2019, in Pamplona (Spain).

Entering the competition is completely free of charge. Entries must be submitted via filmfreeway.com/LabMeCrazy

The competition is open to audiovisual productions that address any science-related topic in any of the following genres: documentaries, reportages, short fiction films, television programs and videos designed for the Internet or social media. They must have been finished after January 1, 2016.

Here are the competition categories and awards:

- Best Documentary. Trophy and diploma
- Best Reportage or TV production. Trophy and diploma
- Best Short Fiction Film (no longer than 25 minutes). Trophy and diploma
- Best Internet or Social Media Video. Trophy and diploma
- Best Student Production. Trophy and diploma
- Best University Production. Trophy and diploma

Deadline for entries: April 28, 2019

The winner of each category will be invited to join us in Pamplona from September 17 through 20, as a guest of the festival.

The competition rules are available here: labmecrazy.org/en

Many thanks for helping us to disseminate this information.

--